

BULGARS POUND ALLIED FORCES

Latter Offer Stout Resistance, But Are Retreating Steadily.

GREGIAN FRONTIER REACHED

Anglo-French Retreat in a Miserable Condition, According to the Berlin War Office—Three Irish Regiments Mentioned For Bravery—French Withdraw Lines Without Fighting. Operations On All Fronts.

London, Dec. 13.—The battle between the Franco-British expeditionary army in southern Serbia and the Bulgarians is rapidly approaching its end. Fighting of the utmost violence, which began six days ago, when the beginning of the allied retreat was forced by their attacks, is still going on, the Bulgars attacking and pursuing with undiminished force and the allies rendering stubborn rear guard resistance, but retreating steadily.

Berlin announces that the allied retreat across the Greek frontier already has begun. The Bulgarian war office, however, admits that the Anglo-French forces are "desperately resisting at every position."

The allied forces have been pushed by the victorious Bulgarians into the bend formed by the Serbo-Greek border line in the southeast. The pursuers are reaping the fruits of their steady gains of the past week, many prisoners and great quantities of material falling into their hands. The British war office admits the loss of eight big field guns and places the British losses at "some 1,500 men."

From official French and British reports it is evident that the British line now runs from the western shore of Lake Dorian to the Salonica-Nish railway, and is in contact at that point with the French, whose line extends from a point just south of Ghevgheli westwards to the frontier.

Berlin described the allied retreat as "in a miserable condition." The extreme violence of the Bulgarian attacks and the tenacity of the allied resistance is illustrated by the British war office report. To the bravery of three Irish regiments, the Munster fusiliers, the Dublin fusiliers and the Connaught rangers, this report ascribes the success of the retirement of the Tenth British division to its present line.

The French, who sustained the first onslaught of the Bulgars in the Vardar valley a little less than a week ago, managed on Dec. 10 and 11 to withdraw their lines "without fighting," according to the Paris war office statement. It was then that the Bulgarians concentrated their forces with all might against the British west of Lake Dorian and forced them to change their position from a vertical to a horizontal line.

TANLAC SECURES HIGHEST RECORD

Quality Tells the Interesting Story of This Extraordinary Medicine.

No other medicine ever has approached the wonderful record of Tanlac. Its success is a romance of the staid business world—a success built on merit so unusual that in just nine months after Tanlac had been introduced, one million bottles had been sold to men and women who had learned its superior qualities for the relief of ailments of the stomach, liver and kidneys and catarrhal affections.

Tanlac appeals to the best people everywhere. These are the men and women who judge intelligently and impartially, and the result always is a Tanlac verdict. Upon the endorsement of many thousands of well known people rests the great and secure popularity of Tanlac.

Those who take Tanlac always return for the second bottle because the first few doses establish its merits. Tanlac is so efficient and pure, it at once makes known its value in derangements of the stomach, indigestion, upset nerves and debility.

Tanlac, that has come to be generally known as the Master Medicine, may now be obtained in Cloverport, Ky., at Wedding's Drug Store, where it is explained daily to many people.

CURIOUS PENALTIES.

Some That Were Inflicted in the Early Days in New York.

When New York, or as it was then called, New Amsterdam, was under Dutch rule, some peculiar penalties were enacted. In 1612 a defendant in an action for slander was sentenced "to throw something in the box for the poor." In 1644 Thomas Cornel, a soldier, was tried for desertion and sentenced "to be conveyed to the place of execution, and there fastened to a stake and a ball fired over his head, as an example to other evildoers."

In 1647 Jonas Jonassen, a soldier, for robbing hen roosts and killing a pig was ordered "to ride a wooden horse three days, from 2 p. m. to the conclusion of the parade, with a fifty pound weight tied to each foot." In 1648 an Englishman found guilty of a grave offense was pardoned on condition that he saw firewood for one year for the West India company. In the time of the commonwealth, in England, drunkards at Newcastle-on-Tyne were sentenced to carry about a tub, with holes in the sides for the arms to pass through. In 1754, in Scotland, David Leyes, for striking his father, was compelled to appear before the congregation at church, "bairneddit and half-tittit," with a paper above his head inscribed with large letters, "Behold the unnatural son, punished for putting hand on his father, and dishonoring God in him."—Exchange.

Another Old Custom Time Has Removed.

With the passing of time has come the passing of many old customs; family traditions are long forgotten.

This is particularly true of one of the oldest of customs among housewives, that of daughters following their mothers in the use of foods and housekeeping methods.

In the olden days if mother did a certain thing this way or that way, daughter did likewise, regardless of newer and improved methods.

If mother used a particular brand of food, daughters were blinded to better kinds merely because mother had used the same brand for years.

But now both mothers and daughters have changed their methods and investigate and compare, not by price alone, but by actual results obtained.

The old order is changing. The candle has given way to the electric light; the old fashioned fire-place to scientific heating methods. Millions of housewives have changed their brands of coffee, tea, extracts, baking powder and other foods. Calumet Baking Powder is one of the most popular brands on the market today because of the uniformly good baking results obtained by those who use it.

ENDORSED AT HOME

Such Proof as This Should Convince Any Cloverport Citizen.

The public endorsement of a local citizen is the best proof that can be produced. None better, none stronger can be had. When a man comes forward and testifies to his fellow citizens, addresses his friends and neighbors, you may be sure he is thoroughly convinced or he would not do so. Telling one's experience when it is for the public good is an act of kindness that should be appreciated. The following statement given by a resident of Cloverport adds one more to the many cases of Home Endorsement which are being published about Doan's Kidney Pills. Read it.

L. V. Chapin, Cloverport, says: "I was in bad shape with kidney trouble. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills recommended, I went to Fisher's Drug Store and got a box. One box cured me. I have had no need of a kidney medicine since."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Chapin had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
